

POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

"Shasta and Friant dams are building; the big job now is to get the water to the land!"

That, tersely stated, is the viewpoint of Senator Bradford S. Crittenden of Stockton, veteran champion of the Central Valley Water Project, who is slated to head up the joint legislative committee on water problems created at the recent session of the state legislature.

"Brad" Crittenden, who started fighting for the big project two decades ago, when it was known simply as the State Water Plan, appends the further statement:

It isn't enough to have a controlled water supply in the rivers and main canals. There must be laterals and irrigation ditches to get the water to the land, where the farmer can make use of it. And we must be able to sell water at a price the farmer can afford to pay; otherwise all the millions spent for Shasta and Friant will have been wasted."

Senator Crittenden, who believes that the destiny of Northern and Central California is inseparably linked with the success of the vast Central Valley Project, just as the Colorado River Project has been a major factor in the development of Southern California, sponsored the legislative resolution creating the water problems committee, which will soon start to function.

With the completion of work on Shasta and Friant dams and other units of the giant waterway due in a few years, the joint legislative committee is scheduled to make a two-year inquiry and report back to the 1943 legislature with authentic data on the following subjects:

The approximate amount of water which will be made available by the two dams.

Estimated demands for water both now and in the future for the development of all agricultural lands in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys; likewise the amount of water required for salinity control in the delta area and for industrial purposes in Contra Costa county.

The most feasible and economic means of distributing the water with recommendations on what methods should be used in financing the distribution systems.

The amount of water that can be stored to assist in flood control, and how it can be utilized to improve navigation, and, as definitely as possible, how much water will remain to be used for primary power after other requirements are met.

"We hope," concludes Senator Crittenden, "to recommend a program which will free the project from either private or political control."

Boys' State Attended by Local Students

The Boys' State Convention held recently in Sacramento was a highly successful one and will long be remembered by everyone of the seven hundred boys that attended.

This year was the first time in the history of Boys' State that a bill passed both houses of the legislature and was signed by the Boys' governor to become a law. This bill provided for the founding of a Boys' State Alumni association which will help carry on the ideals of Boys' State.

The two boys representing Campbell High school at the convention were Edmund Jacobs who was elected to the State Assembly, and Jack Smith who was appointed to the Governor's council.

The fundamental purpose of Boys' State is to satisfy an earnest desire in the hearts and minds of the future voters of America, for a better understanding of the government of which they are a vital part.

—Jack Smith

The price of milk advanced with the first day of this month to meet increased cost of production, according to W. J. Kuhrt of the state department of agriculture. By the new scale fixed under the milk control law, prices at the store will be 11½ cents and 12 cents delivered.

The J. E. Murdock and H. E. Hansen families who had been vacationing at Paradise Park, Santa Cruz, returned to Campbell Sunday evening.

ODE TO THE PRESS

The following poem was first published in the July 4, 1835, issue of the Spirit of the Times. It has been frequently reprinted—and with the approach of Independence Day this year, when the United States is the only great nation in the world where there is a free press, it seems especially appropriate to reprint once more this

Long slumbered the world in the darkness of Error,
And Ignorance brooded o'er Earth like a pall;
To the Mitre and Crown men abased them in terror,
Though galling the bondage and bitter the thrall;
When a voice like the Earthquake's revealed the dishonor—
A flash like the lightning unsealed every eye,
And o'er hill-top and glen floated Liberty's banner,
While round it men gathered to conquer or die.

'Twas the voice of the Press—on the startled ear breaking
In giant-born prowess, the Pallas of old;
'Twas the flash of Intelligence, gloriously waking
A glow on the cheek of the noble and bold;
And Tyranny's minions, o'erawed and affrighted,
Sought a lasting retreat with the cloister and cowl;
And the spells which bound nations in ages benighted
Were cast to the haunts of the bat and the owl.

Then hail to the Press! Chosen guardian of Freedom!
Strong Sword-Arm of Justice! Bright Sunbeam of Truth!
We pledge to her cause (and she has but to need them)
The strength of our Manhood, the fire of our Youth,
Should Despot e'er dare to impede her free soaring,
Or Bigot to fetter her flight with his chain,
We swear that the earth shall close o'er our deploring
Or view her in gladness and freedom again.

But no! To the day-dawn of Knowledge and Glory
A far brighter noontide refulgence succeeds;
And our Art shall embalm, through the ages, in story,
Her champion who triumphs—her martyr who bleeds;
And proudly our sons shall recall their devotion,
While millions shall listen, to honor and bless,
Till there bursts a response from the heart's strong emotion
And the earth echoes deep with "Long Life to the Press."

—Horace Greeley.

Petition For Better Lighting In Campbell Tabled

The petition which was circulated in Campbell requesting the board of supervisors for adequate street lighting facilities was officially tabled until next spring according to the petition committee, Joseph Agostinho, Herbert Shadle and Martin Walsh.

Opposition to the rise in the lighting district tax rate which would be caused by additional lights was given as the reason for withdrawing the petition.

Next year petition sponsors hope to include outlying districts which will materially reduce the present tax rate.

Kiwanians Will Caravan To Brookdale Lodge

The Kiwanis club heard the completion of personal experiences of Walter Smily in the first World War, at its Tuesday luncheon, which have been of special interest due to the present war situation.

Next week there will be no Tuesday meeting, but on Wednesday evening the members will caravan to Brookdale lodge, where they will provide the complete program for the newly formed San Lorenzo Valley Kiwanis club.

The president, Joe Gomes will preside over the ceremonies.

The following Tuesday, July 15, will start the first of the series of ladies nights held monthly.

Judge John D. Blaine yesterday issued a warrant charging Jim Persons with negligent homicide and drunk driving with injury, the complaint being signed by Captain Ed Tressler. Persons had been sought for four years following an accident involving his car and an auto driven by George Maxey, Campbell. Rafael Gutierrez, a passenger in Person's car, died of injuries suffered in the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hancock of Oakland have come to Campbell to make their home with Mrs. Emma J. Rubell, North First street. They were both former residents here. Mrs. Hancock is a daughter of Mrs. Rubell and Mr. Hancock's parents also lived here for some time.

Campbell Fire District To Be Extended Soon

The Campbell fire district will probably be extended within a very short time, according to the fire commission which includes Antone Ferro, Ethan Lanphear and E. C. Merrill.

Maps covering the new areas, Sunnyside and Kennedy avenues, Del Patio and Los Palos tracts which border on Los Gatos creek, and the Hedegard subdivision beyond the high schools, have been prepared.

Petitions for some of this territory were presented some time since but the commissioners wanted to make all the changes at one time.

The assessed valuation of property within the new boundaries is to be checked and other necessary petitions circulated so that complete plans can be checked by the commissioners for presentation to the board of supervisors.

"Love Crazy" at Local Theater

When William Powell and Myrna Loy are billed together, audiences are sure of laughs. But never was the promise of laughs more bountifully willed than in "Love Crazy," their latest "man-and-wife adventure now playing at Blanco's Campbell theater.

Miss Loy becomes jealous of Powell and decides to divorce him. Powell discovers that a wife can't divorce her husband if he's crazy, so sets out to convince her and all and sundry that he's mad as a March hare.

Powell's debonair handling of the absurd situations is engaging and hilarious, and Miss Loy's performance as the wife, as usual, leaves nothing to be desired. Gail Patrick plays the "other woman" convincingly.

With this feature is another popular Dr. Kildare picture, "People vs. Dr. Kildare."

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday will be shown the hilarious picture "In the Navy" starring Abbott and Costello. "The Black Cat," a mystery is the second feature.

W. H. Stray starts today on an extended trip via Portland and the Great Northern to Ludington, Mich., where he will visit for a time. He will then journey south into Kentucky, visiting some of the famous mineral springs, before turning homeward. Mr. Stray retired from active business beginning with this month after a number of years with the insurance firm of Hall and Rambo in San Jose, and is improving his opportunity to make a leisurely trip.

Funeral services were held Friday in San Jose for Amos M. Herron, father of Mrs. Audra Garrison of Campbell. Herron was a native of Kansas, 67 years of age.

Friends Mourn Sudden Death of Elwood B. Baugh

The announcement of the accidental death of Elwood Bernard Baugh was a shock and a very sincere grief to his scores of friends. Falling from a tall ladder Tuesday afternoon while picking figs at his home in San Jose he suffered a basal fracture of the skull on the left side.

Taken to the San Jose hospital by ambulance called by a friendly neighbor every hope was extended for his recovery but shortly after midnight he passed away quite suddenly without regaining consciousness.

His wife with their young daughter was in Oregon where she had gone to look over their ranch and visit relatives and friends and it was some hours before she could be located. She left immediately accompanied by her father and brother, Walter and arrived in San Jose about midnight Wednesday. Other of her relatives here are sisters Mrs. Archie Mc Neil, Mrs. Francis Huddleton an husband and brother Halden Duff of Los Angeles.

Elwood Baugh was born in Gold Hill, Nev., to Hattie A. and the late Arthur E. Baugh in 1897, and was graduated from high school in Orland where his father was school principal.

After the family moved to Campbell in 1916 he was a rural carrier on a Cupertino route from which he resigned to enter the service and was assigned to the R. O. T. C. at College of the Pacific in San Jose.

After the armistice he was connected with the E. R. Kennedy real estate office here, but for many years has been employed in the Bank of America in San Jose.

He was married in 1928 to Helen Duff and was the father of two children, Eva Mae and Gordon Duff Baugh.

His brother Clive Baugh of Berkeley was here yesterday and will return for the services. His sister, Mrs. Helen Wells and daughter, Diane arrived from Los Angeles Wednesday afternoon and Mr. Wells will fly up this evening. Another sister, Mrs. Bernice Lillingston and daughter, Patsy, of Chilli-cothe, Ill., will arrive Saturday. Her twin sister, Mrs. Janice Bohnett, wife of Merlin J. Bohnett, lives in Campbell.

Elwood Baugh was one of the finest of Christian young men, a member of the Meth-

INDEPENDENCE DAY

The celebration of our Independence Day is no idle holiday in a world where the independence of more than a dozen once sovereign states has vanished from the face of the earth before a rising tide of aggression.

It is to make her own independence secure against that menacing tide that this nation today has plunged heart and soul into the task of building a military machine on land, sea and air, second to none.

Grave as that task is, it is no more difficult than that which faced the thirteen colonies in the days of '76. We pay tribute now to the courage and inflexible will of the statesmen of that time who led a fledgling group of states to challenge one of the world's mightiest powers, and to assert the right of those states to be free and independent.

But less remembered today, and it is well worth remarking, is the fact that the Declaration of Independence was then regarded by a large number of persons as an act of the most wanton and foolhardy recklessness. The people of the colonies were by no means united in its support. Many were totally indifferent to it. Others actively opposed military action of any sort.

Indeed, there was some reason for the claim of those who cried, "We can't win!" The colonies had no status whatever in the family of nations. Their finances were in chaotic condition. They were challenging the world's greatest naval power, a nation, moreover, supported by well trained and veteran armies. The American states had barely a handful of ships; its troops were inferior in numbers and training; there were no funds to finance a war. But the fearful and disheartened skeptics lost the day.

Victory went to men with the spirit of Washington and Jefferson, of Tom Paine and Patrick Henry. It is those men whom America remembers and honors on her Independence Day, and to the cause for which they fought America pledges its undying loyalty.

ENJOY THE FIFTH, TOO!

Enjoy the glorious Fourth, but be alive on the Fifth!

July, as one of the year's worst accident months, calls for less speed and more cooperation on the highways, less cutting in and more cutting down on bad traffic habits. After all, why not take our holiday outings in a more holiday mood, and less in a grim, hell-bent-for-leather fashion as if life and livelihood depended on getting to the destination a few minutes earlier than somebody else?

To this year's throng of motoring vacationists and holiday-seekers is now added the extra traffic occasioned by the defense program. Already in the first five months of the year, California's traffic fatalities have soared 16.9 per cent over the like period in 1940. Unless sharply checked, the state appears headed for its worst traffic toll record in history.

Fortunately, it can be checked. Every driver can help and, by doing so, assure himself and his family a more glorious Fourth and happier Fifth!

200,000 REASONS

"Back to work!" has been the theme of the humming wheels of California's industries for the past year. The division of labor statistics reveals that in this period 200,000 Californians have found places in non-agricultural enterprises. Two hundred thousand new pay checks is that many reasons why records in buying and building are falling by the wayside.

SLOW DOWN FOR CHILDREN

With schools closed, for the summer vacation there are more youngsters on the streets, more cars on the highways—and many more hazards to aggravate the safety problem. Motorists must double and redouble their vigilance, if we are to escape a constant succession of ghastly tragedies during the vacation period. Children, of course, must be cautioned by their parents and playground supervisors to "play safe" and use care in crossing streets, but the big responsibility must still rest with men and women behind the wheel.

Here are a few practical "don'ts" for summer drivers.

Don't speed through intersections, no matter how much you need to get where you're going. It's better to miss a train than kill a child!

Don't drive too close to parked cars. Boys and girls still dash out from behind parked cars, even though they've been warned against it.

Don't back out of your driveway without looking. Your own child, or a neighbor's, may die if you're negligent.

Don't assume, when driving in town, that all the youngsters have gone to the country. And don't take it for granted, when up at your favorite resort, that only adults take a holiday.

Don't drive with faulty brakes. Don't speed past playgrounds. Don't indulge the idea that all children go in at sundown, because they don't. Most of all, just don't get careless. Slow down, this summer, for children!

"NOTHING TO FIGHT FOR"

Under orders to appear for induction into the Army for a year's training, Thor Arthur Thompson, 25-year-old Oakland youth, surrendered, instead, to the United States District Attorney—saying he preferred prison to military service.

"I have nothing to fight for," Thompson said.

"What about your country?" asked the officer.

But Thompson simply shook his head and repeated: "I have nothing to fight for!"

Most of us can respect the sincerity of the man who asks to be excused from military service because of religious convictions. The honest pacifist, who doesn't believe in war under any circumstances will find many champions, even among those who would gladly fight for the Flag they live under.

But when a boy raised in America, with all the advantages of America, exclaims, "I have nothing to fight for," we blush for him. Why should those first Americans have fought the battle for Independence, if we of today value it so lightly? Why should other men have died to preserve this nation, when it was torn by Civil War? Why should California's founders have come here, at the peril of their lives, to lay the cornerstone of the state we love—if we of today are so dejected in spirit, and so bankrupt of honor as to have nothing to fight for?

We wonder. But then we pass a n Army training camp, where thousands of other boys are gladly and proudly doing their bit for Uncle Sam, and our fears are resolved. Those boys probably don't want to fight either, but they know we have something worth fighting for, if it comes to that. We have America!

SOMETHING IN A NAME

At a national medical convention in Atlantic City, N. J., the other day a demand was voiced that doctors describe ailments in plain English. Should a patient, for example, have too many red blood corpuscles, doctors should say so, not that he's a victim of hypererythrocythaemia. "A patient," it was argued, "doesn't pay for fancy names. He pays for treatment." Frankly we have doubts. Rather than suffer from too many red corpuscles, wouldn't any person prefer to be victims of hyper-er-uh-you know what we mean?

Postmaster General Walker said: "Highway post office service does not contemplate competition in any way with existing railway transportation. Rather, it is to supersede discontinued train service or supplement that which does not adequately supply postal patrons in a given area."

Patriotic Dishes

Do you feature one or more patriotic dishes on the various national holidays? If not, you are missing many an opportunity to surprise and delight family or guests.

The flag lends itself as a decoration for desserts — the edible flag being the most appreciated. Cookies may be star-shaped, with tiny red candies on each point of the star. Red, white and blue decorations are always attractive.

Here is a recipe for a dessert that will be found very satisfactory for any patriotic holiday meal. No eggs, no baking, no boiling. Very economical and very attractive.

Pumpkin Rennet-Custard

1 package lemon or vanilla rennet powder
1 pint milk (ordinary or homogenized)
¾ cup canned pumpkin
¼ teaspoon ginger
1 tablespoon brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
Cream cheese and red jelly for topping

Set out 5 or 6 individual dessert dishes. To milk, add pumpkin, sugar and spices. Warm slowly, stirring constantly. Test a drop on inside of wrist frequently. When COMFORTABLY WARM, (120° F.) not hot, remove at once from stove. Stir contents of package into milk briskly until dissolved — not over one minute. Pour at once, while still liquid, into individual dessert dishes. Do not move until firm — about 10 minutes. Chill in refrigerator. When ready to serve, top with cream cheese, which has been thoroughly chilled and cut into narrow strips, and with red jelly to form a flag.

He was interested in boys and young men and visited the CCC camps at Watsonville and Gilroy giving talks to the boys and was always urged to come again. His many acts of charity and good will were not spectacular and in the limelight, but with the active cooperation of his wife, many homes and lives were happier and brighter for their visits and assistance.

He participated in the activities of the Christian Business Men's association, whose members have been extremely helpful.

On every side from business associates, friends and mere acquaintances are voiced words of commendation and of regret that so fine a life was terminated so early.

Services will be conducted Monday morning at 10 o'clock from the Roger Darling Garden Chapel with the Rev. Raymond White of the United Presbyterian church of Oakland officiating, with whom he had been actively associated and for whom he had conducted numerous meetings.

Phone Company Issues Statement

N. R. Powley, president of The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, issued a statement today in connection with the release of the dividend checks to shareholders in which he commented on the indicated adverse effect on the company's earnings due to its huge plant construction program—in excess of 50 per cent over last year.

Mr. Powley stated that throughout the entire Pacific coast huge plant additions were being made to meet requirements in defense preparedness, and that in excess of 35,000 employees were on the payroll. New facilities in practically every city, town and hamlet are being added.

"The net gain in telephones in May was 10,641 as compared with 6,260 in May last year. Net gain for the first five months of 1941 was 61,596 as compared with 40,347 for the corresponding period of 1940. Toll and long distance calls for the first five months of this year increased approximately 22 per cent over the same period last year.

"The preliminary earnings figures for the first six months' period of this year are undoubtedly not indicative of the rate of earnings which will be experienced for the entire year 1941. Substantial tax increases must be expected and no provision is included in the six months' statement for excess profits tax nor for an increase in federal income tax. Costs, inclusive of heavy increased wage expenses, are rapidly rising. All of these factors will inevitably result in higher expenses and lower net earnings."

Tomatoes in Gravel

The agricultural experiment station at New Haven, Conn., grows tomatoes in crocks of gravel. Single vines staked in each crock are producing as many as 50 tomatoes. At regular intervals the gravel is supplied with plant food dissolved in water.

Incomes of $1,000,000

In 1929 there were 513 net incomes of $1,000,000 or more.

OUR HIGH SCHOOL

ENGLISH

English, with its ramifications in speech, writing, reading, and literature, is a broad subject. We try to lead the student to express his ideas clearly, logically, and with confidence, both in speaking and in writing; and we try to help him to read with ease and understanding.

Through literature, which is said to be a record of man's noblest thoughts, we hope to let the student become acquainted with all sorts of people and thus lead to correct evaluation of those with whom he comes in actual contact. We hope in this way to help our young people to choose satisfactory friends and to come more nearly to an understanding of humanity.

In the English course, students should be able to broaden their skills and their sympathies and thus increase not only their own happiness but also their usefulness to others.

DRAMA - JOURNALISM

Dean Chamberlin

The courses in drama and journalism have two primary objectives: first, to instill an academic knowledge of the history and characteristics of these types of self expression; and second to put this knowledge into actual practice through the mediums of the plays and the newspaper sponsored by the school. The student in these fields not only loses much of his reticence, through appearing in public and through meeting people, but he also develops the ability to plan and work with a group of his fellows toward a common end.

The course in public speaking has as its objective the development of sound techniques in vocal expression. It includes units dealing with platform speaking, parliamentary practice, conversation, salesmanship, radio speaking, and interviewing.

Harris Legg Is Featured Skater At Ice Follies

Biggest attraction for bay area entertainment seekers continued this week to be the glittering and glamorous Ice Follies of 1941, all-new edition of the famous skating show, now appearing nightly at Winterland, in San Francisco.

The smooth-flowing, richly costumed revue is steadily adding to its audience total of many millions.

First daytime performance of the ice spectacle has been set for Saturday, July 12. The complete night show will be given, commencing at 2:30 p. m., it was declared by the management, and tickets are now available at special rates.

The current edition of the Ice Follies is completely different from the ones which delighted three quarters of a million persons in San Francisco last year and the year before. Production, costumes, lighting and music have been entirely changed but the same great cast of international skating stars appears again.

Amazing to those who see the Ice Follies for the first time is the transposition of dance routines to ice skating. Experts explain that figure skating is based upon dance steps, with a rapid and continuous rhythm almost indescribably beautiful. Those who have seen the show point out that the seemingly effortless flow of action creates the illusion of dancing in the air.

One of the unusual features of the new Ice Follies presentation is the series of performances staged by Harris Legg, champion trick skater, speed skater and barrel jumper.

In one of his acts this year, Legg has a petite partner, Phyllis Rebholz. The two skate on stilts and are the only pair of its kind in the world. In another part of the program, Legg is a "modern Mercury" and leaps over a series of modernistic obstacles. His act culminates as his body hurtles through a revolving circle of flames.

Ice Follies tickets are available for all performances at Winterland, Post and Steiner streets, San Francisco, Walnut 0112; at Sheman Clay box offices in San Francisco and Oakland; and by mail order addressed to Winterland. Advance reservations are recommended.

ARE YOUR ELECTRIC APPLIANCES DOPEY AND UNDERNOURISHED?

Look at what happens when you put too many appliances to work on a wiring circuit. The toaster or other appliances are dopey or slow in action. Bread for example gets toasted in eight minutes instead of five or six. That means appliances are not getting the full voltage and slow down when circuits are overloaded.

When a qualified electric contractor or architect specifies adequate wiring for a home he is thinking of your convenient and economic use of electricity now and in the future. Good adequate certified wiring costs little more than "skimp" or cheap wiring and it soon pays for itself many times over.
